CHECKS WERE WORTHLESS

M. J. KISHPAUGH CHARGED WITH WRITING THEM.

His Wife Was Identified as the Woman Who Had Then Cashed. Patriotic Order of Americans Install Officers—Entertainment and Social in Fourth Ward Mission. Two Deaths in One House Within Two Days—Events of This Evening—Notes and Personals.

M. J. Kishpaugh, who resides with his wife in the rear of Fuller's cigar store, on South Main avenue, was arrested yesterday on a warrant by Lieutenant Davis, charging him with passing worthless checks.

Complaint was lodged with the police that Kishpaugh had written worthless checks, payable to a party named Brandt, and that he had passed them on to McWilliams, the underwear dealer; Schank & Spencer, and the Grand Union Tea company.

When a representative of Schank & Spencer called on Mrs. Kishpaugh yesterday he identified the woman, but she could not appear for a hearing, owing to her illness. Kishpaugh was unable to furnish bail, and was locked up in the Jackson street police station to await a hearing. Both deny the charges. The checks were drawn for $18 each.

Evans, John Evans, Mrs. S. D. Pettit, Bessie Richards, David Stephens, Pearl Jenkins, Phoebe Getty, Thomas Beddoe and daughter, and others.

West Side Republican Club.

This evening will be the regular meeting night of the West Side Central Republican club, and every member is especially urged to be present, as a vote will be taken on important amendments to the by-laws, in reference to raising the dues and changing the meeting nights. These propositions were introduced at the last regular meeting.

Tickets for the first annual informal dance of the club, under the direction of the social committee, will be ready for distribution. The dance will be held in Meyer's hall on Wednesday evening, February 19, with Bauer's orchestra playing.

Several other matters of importance to the club will be taken up and acted upon at this meeting, and it is essential that every member attend. Those in arrears are requested to make immediate settlement.

Rehearsing a Cantata.

The children's choir of the Bellevue Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church are rehearsing the cantata, "A Dialogue of Birds," which will be given a public presentation some time in March. John W. Jones, Thomas Abrams and Mrs. John Reese James have been engaged to assist the choir.

The regular choir of the church are preparing an "Old Folks' Concert," which will be given in the church next month. Reese Samuels has charge of the work, which insures an excellent production. Some splendid talent is being enlisted to assist in the concert.

Simpson Church Notes.

The interest is growing in the revival meetings. The subject last evening was "Where Art Thou?" The pastor discussed three points:

First—Man is always somewhere.

Second—He is often where he has no business to be.

Third—Unless he repents he will get where he does not want to be.

The topic this evening will be "The Pleasures of Sin."

The services were in charge of Rev.

Funeral of John Beff.

Services over the remains of the late John Beff were held yesterday afternoon at the family home, 33 North Summer avenue, where many relatives, friends and neighbors assembled to express their sympathy for the bereaved wife and mother, who has lost husband and son within a few months' time.

The services were in charge of Rev.

Jacob Schoettle, pastor of the Chestnut street German Presbyterian church, and interment was made in the Washburn street cemetery. Installed Officers.

The German Beneficial society, known as the Krauske, Untersteins Verein, held their weekly meeting last evening in Mirz's hall on Pittston avenue, and in addition to other business installed officers for the ensuing term. There was a large attendance of members, and much interest was taken in the proceedings. One new candidate was initiated and three new members were proposed. The officers installed were:

President, Charles Liernann; vice-president, Gus Bohrer; corresponding secretary, Eugene Melchior; financial secretary, Joseph Wagner; treasurer, Charles Graf, and trustee for eighteen months, John Rone. The society has been in existence for twelve years, and has a membership of sixty. The financial standing of the organization is excellent and the books show the sum of $1,700 in the treasury. Although of humble origin and meeting every week in a quiet, inexpensive way, yet the society is one of the strongest and most stable institutions on this side of the Roaring Brook.

Celebrated His Birthday.

Richard Zulager, a well known resident of this side, was 44 years of age last Monday, and in honor of the event invited a number of friends to partake of his hospitality.

The invited guests assembled early, and after wishing their host many happy returns of the day, proceeded to the dining room, where an elegant lunch was served. Several jolly hours were passed afterwards in games and dancing, and at midnight all left for home after thanking the genial host and hostess.

Funerals of a Day.

Mrs. Margaret Mack, whose death occurred Monday, was laid at rest with impressive ceremony yesterday morning, surrounded by numerous relatives and sympathizing friends. The remains were taken to St. Peter's cathedral, from the late home on Prospect avenue, and there the last sad rites for the dead were observed. Interment was afterwards made in the Hyde Park cemetery.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Schlammer, which died on Tuesday morning, was laid at rest in the Minooka cemetery. The funeral was private.

NUBS OF NEWS.

A valuable horse, owned by Spruks Bros., the lumber dealers, died yesterday morning.

The parade of the Star Social club takes place tonight at 8 o'clock. The society will conduct a ball next Monday night.

General Grant commandery, Knights of Malta, will meet in regular session this evening in Hartman's hall.

Midweek services were held last evening in the German Presbyterian church on Hickory street.

P. P. Ruane, of 1824 Cedar avenue, was rather badly hurt while at work in the Lackawanna's round house on Tuesday and will be laid up for some time.

OBITUARY.

MRS. MARY KEARNEY, of Archbald, died at her home yesterday at 7 o'clock. She was one of the oldest residents of Archbald and was a Christian woman of high ideals and great purity of life. She is survived by the following children: John J. Kearney, of Keokuk, Iowa; James A. Kearney, of Keokuk, Iowa; Nellie Kearney, of Keokuk, Iowa; and Thomas Kelly, of Archbald, and Dr. P. H. Kearney, of this city. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from St. Thomas' church, Archbald.

MRS. MICHAEL TOOMEY died yesterday at her home at West Market street. The funeral announcement will be made later.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied, for publication, by the writer's name. The Tribune does not assume responsibility for opinions here expressed.]

Card from John J. Coyne.

Sir: Kindly allow me to hereby warn the young fellow who represents the Minooka department of the Scranton Times of his probable danger in case he persists in blurring my name before the public in the funny manner he has been every now and then the past few years, in his efforts, no doubt, to be smart at my expense. He seems ready always around election times especially to notify the good people of Minooka of my "political death," as he puts it, with the evident intention of conveying to people outside the false impression that I am a standing candidate for political honors while he knows at the same time that I have never sought for office excepting the one I hold at present. If I am to be his target in the future as in the past I'll guarantee that his experience will make him a wiser but maybe a sadder young chap. "Exposition is the great teacher."

Engines Overhauled.

Engineer Daniel J. Slove, of Engine company No. 1, has just completed the work of thoroughly overhauling every engine in the fire department. The cylinders of all the steamers have been repacked and new valves have been put on in many instances.

The chemical engines have been fitted with new valves and it is possible to force the chemicals up as high as the hose can be carried. The entire cost of the improvements has been less than $100. Engineer Slove is an expert machinist and takes greater pleasure in doing work of this kind than in sitting around unemployed.

ALDERMAN WAS IN BED.

Bride and Groom United Standing by His Bedside.

Frank Marocco and Mrs. Rosanna Marasullo, of Old Forge, were united in marriage yesterday by Alderman Millar. The ceremony was performed in the alderman's bed room, where he is confined by illness. The alderman sat up in bed and tied the knot while the bride and groom clasped hands at the bedside.

The bride is a widow and the groom a widower. Their seven children witnessed the ceremony.

This is the second marriage ceremony Alderman Millar has performed in his sick room.
